Cultural Competence via UNE Library Services:

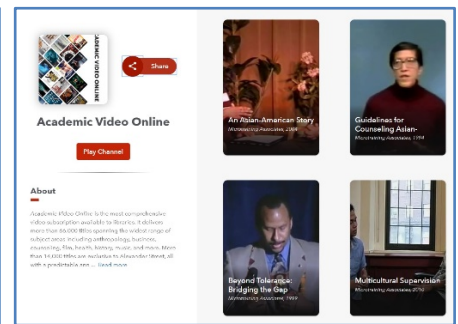

We all benefit from exposure to cultures with which we are unfamiliar. UNE students, faculty, and staff need to ensure we are culturally competent not just so we can be good world citizens, but also so that we can do our best work. UNE Library Services offers resources for cultural competence we can all benefit from engaging with.

CultureGrams offers concise, reliable and up-to-date country reports on 204 cultures of the world, U.S. states, and Canadian provinces, and more.

Use Nursing Reference Center to search “Providing Culturally Competent Care” then use the “Cultural Copetencies” tab to learn about different ethnic and religious groups and the types of information health professionals need to keep in mind to successfully work with each group.

Academic Video Online offers a series of videos on intercultural communication and cultural competency; search “intercultural communication” or “counseling the culturally diverse” to browse.

Take a look, too, at our books on cultural competency and cultural diversity.

Please share this resource with your colleagues and let us know at the library how we can help you and your students.

Thanks,
