It's Valentine's Day weekend and there are couples all over the place. Everyone's so lovey-dovey and happy, but the only thought on your mind is where you're going to sleep this weekend.

You know your roommates' boyfriends/girlfriends are coming up for the weekend and you know they're going to want some alone time, but how much alone time exactly? For those of you who are unfamiliar with the term, according to urbandoictionary.com, "sexiled" is: To banish a roommate from the room/dorm/apartment for the weekend and you know exactly? For those of you who are going to sexiled, or are you going to take a stand and get your room back?

Roommates and their significant others is a situation almost every college student has to deal with, but there's usually some type of agreement made at the beginning of the year. However, this weekend is different. This is Valentine's Day and you know that the couple is going to want to spend as much time together as possible. The question in your mind is either "where am I going to sleep," or "When am I going to tell my roommate that I want my room." Or what if everyone's boyfriends or girlfriends are visiting, then.

Please see SEXILED, page 2.

Roommates and their significant others is a situation almost every college student has to deal with, but there's usually some type of agreement made at the beginning of the year. However, this weekend is different. This is Valentine's Day and you know that the couple is going to want to spend as much time together as possible.

The question in your mind is either "Where am I going to sleep," or "When am I going to tell my roommate that I want my room." Or what if everyone's boyfriends or girlfriends are visiting, then.

Please see SEXILED, page 2.

Love for Our Brothers: MLK Jr. Celebration

BY ALYSSA FASTNACHT
Nor'easter Staff

"Our goal is to create a beloved community and this will require a qualitative change in our soul as well as a quantitative change in our lives." MLK Jr.

Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. described "Beloved Community" as being not desegregation but integration of all men to procure a world where equality can and does exist. A place where people accept, not simply tolerate, the differences between one another. Ultimately, we need to strive for a true sense of brotherhood. With Valentine's Day right around the corner, the people of America should really make a conscious effort to put aside perceived differences and learn to love their neighbor across racial, economic, religious or political divides.

This year marks the 23rd annual MLK Jr. Celebration that UNE has sponsored. In May of 1964, Dr. King visited St. Francis College, which is now the UNE Biddedford Campus to deliver a speech at a civil rights symposium. The two-day event brought together leaders of the civil rights movement to raise awareness of the civil rights struggles our country was facing at that time. Dr. King's speech was focused on civil disobedience, and some photos of his visit are currently hung up along the Campus Center Art Wall and are usually displayed in the St. Francis Room.

According to Donna Gaspar Jarvis, the Director of Multicultural Affairs and Chair of the MLK Jr. Task Force, the goal of the MLK Jr. Celebration is to present speakers and offer programs that remind the UNE community of Dr. King's commitment to social justice and speaking out against oppression of all kinds.

"The annual MLK Jr. Celebration is a time to reflect on history and the courage and leader. Please see MLK, page 2.
it just makes the situation that much worse. And keep in mind, the room next door doesn't necessarily want to wake up to the sounds of love either.

So here's some advice for those who plan on having their boyfriend or girlfriend visit for Valentine's day weekend. First of all, if you do want the room for alone time let your roommates know when (before the moment is right), and if they're okay with it, then respect that decision and don't take advantage of it. Second, if they're not okay with giving up the room, respect that as well and realize it's just as much their room as it is yours, and its especially more their room then it is your significant other's.

Valentine's day weekend can be easy or difficult for you and your group. Everyone knows that the couples are going to want to spend time together, and no one purposely wants to ruin their perfect weekend, but keep in mind those around you. These few tips will help you and your roommate(s) share the love this Valentine's day weekend.

1. Make plans to stay out of the dorm.
2. Notify your roommate(s) in advance if you would like the room to yourself.
3. Come up with a signal to let others know not to enter the room when your having your special time.
4. Don't take advantage of the special day.

You may have seen him floating around campus. You may have seen him fulfilling his duties as a Federal Jacks employee. Or even working it on the volleyball court. However, if none of this sounds familiar you might just have no idea who he is and what he's talking about. Michael Campinell is much more than the.$

He even goes out of his way to help you and your fellow students. His 6'2" frame provides him with the ability to get you extra butter on your popcorn, and occasionally, occasion­ ally, he'll grab you good stuff to eat.

Hey remember in Godfather BFFL Brian Muldoon. I've always wanted to meet a guy who has a signed copy of The Godfather. I've always wanted to meet a girl who has a signed copy of The Notebook...hit me up ladies.
Meet the Auctionees

The Nor'Easter News asked the ladies & gentlemen being auctioned off at the Senior Date Auction on February 13th a few brief questions. Below are the responses:

1. Why did you decide to do the senior date auction?
2. Why should someone bid on you? What do you have that the others don't?
3. What is a date with you typically like?
4. Who are you hoping will bid on you?
5. Anything else you'd like to say?

Meet AJ Fredette...

1. I decided to do the senior date auction to show off what I'm working with... and of course shake what my mama gave me.
2. Someone should bid on me because it's a guaranteed good time, and no one will leave disappointed.
3. Probably the best thing you'll ever experience.
4. Anyone, and anything.
5. MAKE IT RAIN LADIES!!

Meet Brandon Gormley...

1. I thought it would be hilarious to try and sell myself. Plus, I could really use a valentine's day date. Cuddling with myself is just not as much fun.
2. My date is to Fuji's, the Japanese Hibachi grill, which is one of the most exciting places to eat. And, my date comes with a happy ending, just kidding of course.
3. A typical date with me is anything but typical. Guys gotta have an edge and be different than the rest, so I try to make my dates comfortable, but very fun and interesting as well.
4. I have a few people in mind, but its for a good cause so I hope a lot of people do so we make a lot of money,
5. Violets are blue and daisies are yellow.

Meet Caroline Engwer...

1. I decided to do the auction because all of the proceeds are going towards our senior class and senior week - so I was willing to do anything I could to help out.
2. Why shouldn't they bid on me and if for the price of one cant beat that!
3. I'm pretty outgoing, so the possibilities are endless, so you can just imagine how a date with be with the two of us.
4. Who will bid on us? I guess we'll just have to wait and see, but we will keep everyone in mind that does, for future reference of course.
5. Because I feel like its a crime to deprive the UNE community of the best date with me.

Meet Joseph Desilets...

1. I decided to do the senior date auction to help raise money for my class.
2. Although I might not be the most athletic or strong of the male contestants I do have the drive and desire to truly please the person who bids on me.
3. A date with my typically starts off with dinner and some drinks. It's then followed up by a game of backgammon and usually that always ends in a hot oil body massage.
4. I hope mostly middle age women bet on me, I have a taste for the well aged wine.
5. Bid fast, bid high.

Meet John Pecchia...

1. It's a fun way to use my really really ridiculously good looks to raise some money for our class.
2. Someone should bid on me, because your not just laying down a bet; you are betting for a date with me.
3. A date with me is never too dull. I always like staying active and having fun. I put in lots of thought to my dates and I like giving surprises, so you will probably experience something a little different with a guy like me.
4. As long as it is someone that i can have fun with i don't really mind. I might have one that i am pullin for, but i guess that we will just have to wait and see.
5. Violets are blue and daisies are yellow.

Meet Blake Conrad...

1. Because who doesn't like showing off what they've got? Im looking for that diamond in the rough, a girl that can be what they've got! Anybody, I'm an equal opportunity dater.
2. I am a guaranteed good time, I can promise whoever buys me some stories that they will remember forever.
3. The usual: Dinner, dancing, high speed chases.
4. Anybody, I'm an equal opportunity dater.
5. Good luck everybody and I look forward to being sold to someone.

Meet Eric Cruzan...

1. I decided to do the auction because not only is it going to help out our class, but who wouldn't want to buy me?
2. Someone should bid on me because not only will they get a night to remember, but I WILL call them the next morning.
3. A date with me in something you have never had before in your life. One week: Freshmen.
4. Cheeky.
5. Bid fast, bid high.

Meet Brian Muldoon...

1. I decided to do it to show off my cut body.
2. Someone should vote for me because I have a love for animals, and foot drop.
3. A date with me is very compassionate.
4. There are so many great possibilities are endless.
5. I have a great love for dogs.

Meet JM Cascio...

1. I decided to do the auction because not only is it going to help out our class, but who wouldn't want to buy me?
2. Someone should bid on me because not only will they get a night to remember, but I WILL call them the next morning.
3. A date with me is something you have never had before in your life. One week: Freshmen.
4. Cheeky.
5. Bid fast, bid high.
Experiencing love through the screen

BY MANDY RANCOURT

Nor`east Staff

Every year, on February 14, most people are made either blissfully or painfully aware of the state of their love lives. Valentine's Day comes and goes and sometimes so does the person you may or may not find, with it being a symbolic and unique holiday in that it can draw one of three emotions out of people: love, longing or contempt.

For those fortunate people who have someone special to celebrate the holiday with, they put their love life on display and experience a day of love, romance and happiness.

Singles may be forced to spend the day being reminded that while other people are out there celebrating their love lives, they are only wishing that they had someone to spend the holiday with.

There are also those people that hate Valentine’s Day and some that do not even believe in love.

Valentine’s Day can leave them feeling disgusted because there are reminders of the day for every single person, individuals that have someone special to celebrate the holiday with, decorations and people in love.

However, Valentine’s Day was, and will always be meant to be a day all about love and romance and for those who choose to enjoy it, it can create great memories and feelings. There is nothing better to get you into the spirit of Valentine’s Day than a good romance movie and based on trailers, 2010 has already promised some great hits.

On February 12, 2010, Valentine’s Day will be released in theaters showing “interwining couples and singles in Los Angeles break-up and make-up based on the pressures and expectations of Valentine’s Day.” The movie stars many big names including Jessica Alba, Jessica Biel, Bradley Cooper, Eric Dane, Patrick Dempsey, Jamie Foxx, Jennifer Garner, Anne Hathaway, Ashton Kutcher, Queen Latifah, Taylor Lautner, Julia Roberts, and Taylor Swift.

The trailer promises a good and interesting romantic comedy. The characters in the movie claim that Valentine’s Day is a day of anger, disappointment, confusion and complication, but also love, romance, matting, and commitment. According to the tagline, “It is a love story. More or less.” The movie shows both the pros and cons of the holiday, but it proves that Valentine’s Day is certainly never a boring or emotionless day.

The Time Traveler’s Wife is “a romantic drama about a Chicago librarian with a gene that causes him to involuntarily time travel, and the complications it creates for his marriage.” It will be released on DVD on February 9, 2010 and stars Rachel McAdams and Eric Bana as Clare and Henry.

The movie has had merit for its release since I first saw a preview of it months ago. With lines like “I’ve been waiting for this my whole life... you think I wanted this life? This husband who disappears?” and the conflicting conclusion “I wouldn’t change one second of our life together” the movie promises drama and soul. I bet this movie will make me long for the kind of love the trailer showed and make me believe that love can conquer all, even time.

“A romantic drama about a soldier John who falls for a conservative college student ‘Savan­nah’ while he’s home on leave” describes the movie Dear John, which was released in theaters on Valentine’s Day February 5, 2010. Channing Tai­num and Amanda Seyfried show how war and distance can affect a relationship through quotes like “All I know is that I want to stay here with you as long as I possibly can” and “I miss you so much it hurts.”

The powerful and famous quote from this movie, “Two weeks together, that’s all it took, two weeks for me to fall for you” is enough to make me, someone who does not believe in love at first sight, want to watch this movie.

At the end of a good romantic movie, every viewer should have tear-rimmed eyes and hearts breaking. Valentine’s Day has never made me shed a tear, but I have touched the soul and made you either long for that kind of love or be thankful that you have it. Trailers may be designed to make movies seem as interesting as possible to make the most profit, but I believe and hope that all of these movies will be emotional tearjerkers in the best way possible.

Movies may not be like real life, but it is nice to think that our lives could play out like that, that we could meet and spend our lives with the person of our dreams. Deep down, most people want their own John or Savannah and their own Henry or Clare and the woman named Natalie (Ker­dick) for example of what love can be like.

So while Valentine’s Day ap­proaches, if you have that special someone, plan to celebrate the love that many people long for and that some movies are made of.

Movie Review: Up in the Air

BY STEVE SCRIVENER

Nor`east Staff

Looking for a new movie to watch that you can really connect with? Not just some kick-ass comedy or romantic love story, but something that has a much deeper connection? Check out Up in the Air which premiered on Christmas Day, 2009 that features George Clooney, Vera Farmiga, and Anna Kendrick. This entertaining flick illustrated a problem that viewers can relate to.

Up in the Air is about a middle age businessman Ryan (Clooney), who spends close to 300 days a year living on the road. He spends most of his time in crowded airports and luxurious charter planes while traveling across the country.

A reminder of his life in a suitcase is demonstrated when he says, “there are things you probably hate about traveling- the recycled air, the artificial lighting, the digital juice dispensers, and the cheap sushi are all reminders that I am home.”

He works as a man who gets hired by major corpora­tions to come in and fire people. He finds out that people he has never met before and likely will never see again.

His company hires a young up and coming manager Ryan (Clooney), who spends close to 300 days a year living on the road. He spends most of his time in crowded airports and luxurious charter planes while traveling across the country.

A reminder of his life in a suitcase is demonstrated when he says, “there are things you probably hate about traveling- the recycled air, the artificial lighting, the digital juice dispensers, and the cheap sushi are all reminders that I am home.”

He works as a man who gets hired by major corpora­tions to come in and fire people. He finds out that people he has never met before and likely will never see again.

His company hires a young up and coming manager Ryan (Clooney), who spends close to 300 days a year living on the road. He spends most of his time in crowded airports and luxurious charter planes while traveling across the country.

A reminder of his life in a suitcase is demonstrated when he says, “there are things you probably hate about traveling- the recycled air, the artificial lighting, the digital juice dispensers, and the cheap sushi are all reminders that I am home.”

He works as a man who gets hired by major corpora­tions to come in and fire people. He finds out that people he has never met before and likely will never see again.

His company hires a young up and coming manager Ryan (Clooney), who spends close to 300 days a year living on the road. He spends most of his time in crowded airports and luxurious charter planes while traveling across the country.

A reminder of his life in a suitcase is demonstrated when he says, “there are things you probably hate about traveling- the recycled air, the artificial lighting, the digital juice dispensers, and the cheap sushi are all reminders that I am home.”

He works as a man who gets hired by major corpora­tions to come in and fire people. He finds out that people he has never met before and likely will never see again.

His company hires a young up and coming manager Ryan (Clooney), who spends close to 300 days a year living on the road. He spends most of his time in crowded airports and luxurious charter planes while traveling across the country.

A reminder of his life in a suitcase is demonstrated when he says, “there are things you probably hate about traveling- the recycled air, the artificial lighting, the digital juice dispensers, and the cheap sushi are all reminders that I am home.”

He works as a man who gets hired by major corpora­tions to come in and fire people. He finds out that people he has never met before and likely will never see again.
Valentine's Day in Pictures
Romantic Poems

Want to impress that special someone? Here are some of the most romantic poems ever written. Recite one of these and she (or he) will have a hard time turning away...

William Shakespeare’s “18th Sonnet”

Shall I compare thee to a summer’s day? Thou art more lovely and more temperate: Rough winds do shake the darling buds of May, And summer’s lease hath all too short a date: Sometime too hot the eye of heaven shines, And often is his gold complexion dimm’d; And every fair from fair sometime declines, By chance or nature’s changing course untrimm’d; But thy eternal summer shall not fade Nor lose possession of that fair thou owest; Nor shall Death brag thou wander’st in his shade, When in eternal lines to time thou growest: So long as men can breathe or eyes can see, So long lives this and this gives life to thee.

Percy Bysshe Shelley’s “Love’s Philosophy”

The fountains mingle with the river And the rivers with the ocean, The winds of Heaven mix forever With a sweet emotion; Nothing in the world is single; All things by a law divine In one spirit meet and mingle. Why not I with thine? - See the mountains kiss high Heaven And the waves clasp one another; No sister-flower would be forgiven If it disdained its brother; And the sunlight clasps the earth And the moonbeams kiss the sea: What is all this sweet work worth If thou kiss not me?

“Love” by Samuel Taylor Coleridge

And in Life’s noisiest hour, There whispers still the ceaseless Love of Thee, The heart’s Self-solace and soliloquy. You mould my Hopes, you fashion me within ; And to the leading Love-throb in the Heart Thro’ all my Being, thro’ my pulse’s beat ; You lie in all my many Thoughts, like Light, Like the fair light of Dawn, or summer Eve On rippling Stream, or cloud-reflecting Lake. And looking to the Heaven, that bends above you, How oft! I bless the Lot that made me love

I Didn’t Know: A Poem

BY CHEIKH SAAD SIDI HAIBA

I did not know I love the sea with its raging waves I did not know I love to sail even without a ship Even though there is no hope to get to the shore I sailed for a long time; I never got there Stuck where there is nothing but blue water and blue skies and bright hope The mirages of my hope appear every now and then But soon I encounter the fact that I am not yet there I did not know I love to wish the impossible And endure the pain of not getting what I want I did not know I like mountains Whose tops I viewed as the top of the world For my irresistible feeling that something precious of mine is up there I climb again and again but I cannot get to their tops either No matter how hard I try, it is my destiny I did not know I like stars and adore the moon Not because they are beautiful and inspiring but Because they are my only shelter when I am a prey of loneliness I did not know I like to plant impossible dreams And water them with my tears and harvest nothing but sorrow I did not know I like to sing with birds at the sunrise They are my only friend when the stars and the moon are gone I did not know I like to fly with wings of hope And perch on a throne of happiness I did not know I like to stand by murky water Where black mud, blue water and colorful birds get together I did not know I like clouds Their height reminds me of my lost pride I did not know I like the remnants of ancient houses Through which I can smell the aroma of bygone days Through their darkness I see the light of the past I enjoy listening to their horrible silence Through which I could hear the beautiful songs I used to sing I did not know I like the desert Where golden sunbeams and golden sands hug each other Where the sun smiles and the skies rain love Where thunders are wisdom words from the Wise And the lightening is a divine light to show me the right way I never realized I like the sun I wait for the sunrise impatiently to see what tomorrow holds for me And hope in vain that it will never sets But my hopes and wishes vanish as the sun goes down And long nights fall penetrating my heart with their claws The whole universe says no to my hopes Why? I never knew I like superstitious stories Told by a ninety year old woman With her hands trembling and her toothless mouth shaking Her eyes disappearing in her worn out face With kids around her listening with rapt attention And in the middle of the circle there I am Even though I am no longer a kid There I find myself triumphing And all my impossible dreams come true...
To 15 Romantic Movies

Need a good date idea? Pop in one of these movies and you’re guaranteed a romantic evening.*

1. Casablanca (1942)
2. Rear Window (1954)
3. It’s a Wonderful Life (1946)
4. North By Northwest (1959)
5. Forrest Gump (1994)
6. Vertigo (1958)
7. City Lights (1931)
10. Kibar Feyzo (1978)
11. Modern Times (1936)
13. The Big Parade (1925)
15. Rebecca (1940)

*Taken from imdb.com

To 12 Romantic Songs

Looking to set the mood? Here’s a great list of romantic songs for the perfect setting to any date.

1. “Wonderful Tonight” by Eric Clapton
2. “God Only Knows” by The Beach Boys
3. “At Last” by Etta James
4. “Crazy in Love” by Beyonce
5. “How Do I Live” by Trisha Yearwood
6. “When a Man Loves a Woman” by Percy Sledge
7. “Lovesong” by The Cure
8. “Can’t Take My Eyes Off You” by Frankie Valli
9. “Sexual Healing” by Marvin Gaye
10. “I’m in the Mood for Love” by Marilyn Monroe
11. “You Light up My Life” by Debby Boone
12. “Wicked Game” by Chris Isaac

Great Date Spots

Need that perfect place to take that special someone on a date? Here are some great suggestions in the area...

1. The Point: It’s right on campus, so no need to arrange a ride. Sure, it’s a bit cold out so grab a blanket and two mugs of hot chocolate and get close. Maybe even watch the sunset!
2. Old Port in Portland: Take a nice walk around the cobble streets of the Old Port. End the night with a drink at one of the local pubs or dinner at one of the many, many restaurants.
3. Hanabi Restaurant: Right down the road, in Saco, this Japanese/Korean food restaurant is perfect for a date. It’s quiet and well lit, with tables just big enough for two. If you or your date like sushi, don’t go anywhere else!
4. The Beach: Drive down Route 9 to Fortune Rocks Beach and sit on one of the huge rocks and just hang out. What could be more romantic than the ocean? Take advantage of the awesome scenery here in Maine.
5. Boston: It’s only an hour and a half drive or a short train ride away, so plan a whole day trip. Hit one of the awesome museums or the aquarium (Penguins are super romantic). End with dinner at an awesome restaurant (my favorites are in Cambridge-- Al disgier Cafe in particular!).

Valentine’s Day Recipes

For Dinner: Grilled Rock Lobster Tail

Ingredients

- 1 tablespoon lemon juice
- 1/2 cup olive oil
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1 teaspoon paprika
- 1/8 teaspoon white pepper
- 1/8 teaspoon garlic powder
- 2 (10 ounce) rock lobster tails

Directions

Preheat grill for high heat. Squeeze lemon juice into a small bowl, and slowly whisk in olive oil. Whisk in salt, paprika, white pepper, and garlic powder. Split lobster tails lengthwise with a large knife, and brush flesh side with marinade. Lightly oil grill grate. Place tails, flesh side down, on preheated grill. Cook for 10 to 12 minutes, turning once, and basting frequently with marinade. Discard any remaining marinade. Lobster is done when opaque and firm to the touch.

For Dessert: Black Forest Mini Cheesecakes

Ingredients:

- 18 to 24 vanilla wafer cookies
- 2 packages (8 oz. each) cream cheese, softened
- 3 eggs
- 1 container (8 oz.) dairy sour cream
- 1/2 teaspoon almond extract
- SOUR CREAM TOPPING(recipe follows)

Directions

1. Heat oven to 325°F. Line muffin cups (2-1/2 inches in diameter) with foil. Bake 12 to 15 minutes or until the cheesecake is almost firm. Cool to room temperature, then refrigerate. Just before serving, KIT KAT® Bars or chocolate covered strawberries can be used as a topping.

For Dinner: Rosemary Chicken and Roasted Vegetables

Ingredients

- 1 (3 pound) whole broiler-fryer chicken
- 1 tablespoon butter, melted
- 4 medium red potatoes, quartered
- 2 cups fresh or frozen whole baby carrots
- 2 stalks celery, cut into 2-inch pieces
- 12 small white onions, peeled
- 1/2 teaspoons chopped fresh rosemary leaves
- 1 cup Swanson® Chicken Stock

Directions

1. Preheat oven to 375°F. Place chicken breasts, pale side up, in a roasting pan. Season with salt and pepper. Roast at 375°F for 50 minutes. Remove from pan; cool 5 to 10 minutes. Meanwhile, combine the remaining ingredients. Place chicken in a roasting pan; top with marinade. Roast 15 to 20 minutes longer or until the chicken is no longer pink.

Top 10 Natural Aphrodisiacs

1. Avocados: Get some guacamole!
2. Coffee: who knew?
3. Honey: Slip some in your tea before bed.
5. Figs: Fig Newtons.
6. Pine Nuts: There’s a ton of great recipes that use pine nuts online.
7. Chili Peppers: Spice up your dinner!
8. Bananas: Banana cream pie, anyone?
10. Coffee: who knew?
Valentine’s Day Messages

“I wicked love yah Ryan Keith.”
Caitlyn Townsend

“I love Steve Smith!”
Nick Wilson

“Happy Valentine’s Day Ahmed— Will you be my Valentine? We both know
“After that beat drop, you can hear the bass from the parking lot.” Happy Love Day everyone.”
Ryan Hinchey

“Happy Valentine’s Day Cass, Bri, Pov, Ang, Cass, Kristin. I love you!”
Chezley

“Mr. Verde- I love you. Congratulations on getting into UC Davis, smarty pants.”
Marissa

“Hi Sam! You probably won’t see this!”
Love, Joe Jacques

“Hi Megan- Happy Valentine’s Day!”
Sam

“Dear Pedro, Happy Valentine’s Day, you are the best uncle and godfather. I love you!”
Quentin A.

“To my newspaper people-Happy Valentine’s Day! Now go write your articles.”
Love, Marissa

“159 Pool Street Happy Valentine’s Day....”

“Dearest D, I want your disco stick. And your ugly. And your disease. Reason # 1275? Love you.”
M

“Dear Brianni, I don’t know how else to say this, but I love you. You are the most beautiful girl in Chichi- cago and at UNE. I love the way you slice cheese.”
Prince Charming

“Dear Abigail, I like how you wear mittens everyday even when it’s not cold. I’d like to be your mittens.”
William

“Joey Mornaeult is da man!!”
Chris Wolf

“Bob, you are the love of my life.”
Joe

“Much love and thanks to all the student leaders who organized Love for Haiti.”
Tim St. John

“The Political Science Dept. is the best! To the seniors, I wish you good luck on your journey after undergrad. I love you all!!”
Brianni

“Happy Valentine’s Day Champlain 202 Girls! Love you all!”
Rachelle

“Nicole, Happy Valentine’s Day! Hope you’re having fun.”
Matthew Stafford

“Happy Birthday Chels!”
Emeline Emery

“I’ll always be here.”
Kelly Lanni

“I love cats.”
JM

“Thanks for being a great cousin Bri.”
AK

“Hey Steve, it’s your buddy bricks here, just wanted to tell you that your articles are not even remotely funny. K dude cya.”
“Hey Senior, the boys just wanted to wish you all the best in your new assisted living facility. Remember Calcium!”
The Boys

“Christian, pick out your fro!”

“Hey Roper! This weekend is going to be so much fun! I can’t believe you said you’d go that with me. I’m so pumped.”
Jack Nolin

“Hey LAX team... Good luck with all your future endeavors!!”
The Hockey Team

“Hey Pennach! You are a very special boy.”
Nate Porter

“Ali, thank you for persistently filling my life with fluff free knowledge. I speak on behalf of Ashley when I say we love our poli sci staff!!”
Bri & Ashley

“Marissa- Thanks for all your hard work making this paper so great!!”
Angel

“I love you Tiffany!”

“Dear Hecklers outside caf, leave us alone.”

“Joey, you are my favorite bromance. Besides Scott.”
Travis Dyer

“Estifonia & Kels! Happy Valentine’s Day. Let’s play cards!”
Ashley Walley (A-Wall)

“I <3 you Chebsy and Marissa!”
Conor Draleau

“Mike, thanks for looking the other way.”
The Boys

“Happy Valentine’s Day West 208 & 209 (+Devan) Love you.”
Katie Brems

“Hey Jen, Happy V-day”

“Megan Gilbert, you’re the best. Keep looking good. You my girl.”
Your admirer and best friend

“Happy Valentine’s Day! Stephanie you’re beautiful and I love you mucho!! Keep pulling my hair. HAHA!”
You know...

“I love you twinkle.”
Jon Lyon

“Happy Valentine’s Day!”

“I wicked love yah Ryan Keith.”
Caitlyn Townsend

“I love Steve Smith!”
Nick Wilson

“Happy Valentine’s Day Ahmed— Will you be my Valentine? We both know
“After that beat drop, you can hear the bass from the parking lot.” Happy Love Day everyone.”
Ryan Hinchey

“Happy Valentine’s Day Cass, Bri, Pov, Ang, Cass, Kristin. I love you!”
Chezley

“Mr. Verde- I love you. Congratulations on getting into UC Davis, smarty pants.”
Marissa

“Hi Sam! You probably won’t see this!”
Love, Joe Jacques

“Hi Megan- Happy Valentine’s Day!”
Sam

“Dear Pedro, Happy Valentine’s Day, you are the best uncle and godfather. I love you!”
Quentin A.

“To my newspaper people-Happy Valentine’s Day! Now go write your articles.”
Love, Marissa

“159 Pool Street Happy Valentine’s Day....”

“Dearest D, I want your disco stick. And your ugly. And your disease. Reason # 1275? Love you.”
M

“Dear Brianni, I don’t know how else to say this, but I love you. You are the most beautiful girl in Chichi- cago and at UNE. I love the way you slice cheese.”
Prince Charming

“Dear Abigail, I like how you wear mittens everyday even when it’s not cold. I’d like to be your mittens.”
William

“Joey Mornaeult is da man!!”
Chris Wolf

“Bob, you are the love of my life.”
Joe

“Much love and thanks to all the student leaders who organized Love for Haiti.”
Tim St. John

“The Political Science Dept. is the best! To the seniors, I wish you good luck on your journey after undergrad. I love you all!!”
Brianni

“Happy Valentine’s Day Champlain 202 Girls! Love you all!”
Rachelle

“Nicole, Happy Valentine’s Day! Hope you’re having fun.”
Matthew Stafford

“Happy Birthday Chels!”
Emeline Emery

“I’ll always be here.”
Kelly Lanni

“I love cats.”
JM

“Thanks for being a great cousin Bri.”
AK

“Hey Steve, it’s your buddy bricks here, just wanted to tell you that your articles are not even remotely funny. K dude cya.”
“Hey Senior, the boys just wanted to wish you all the best in your new assisted living facility. Remember Calcium!”
The Boys

“Christian, pick out your fro!”

“Hey Roper! This weekend is going to be so much fun! I can’t believe you said you’d go that with me. I’m so pumped.”
Jack Nolin

“Hey LAX team... Good luck with all your future endeavors!!”
The Hockey Team

“Hey Pennach! You are a very special boy.”
Nate Porter

“Ali, thank you for persistently filling my life with fluff free knowledge. I speak on behalf of Ashley when I say we love our poli sci staff!!”
Bri & Ashley

“Marissa- Thanks for all your hard work making this paper so great!!”
Angel

“I love you Tiffany!”

“Dear Hecklers outside caf, leave us alone.”

“Joey, you are my favorite bromance. Besides Scott.”
Travis Dyer

“Estifonia & Kels! Happy Valentine’s Day. Let’s play cards!”
Ashley Walley (A-Wall)

“I <3 you Chebsy and Marissa!”
Conor Draleau

“Mike, thanks for looking the other way.”
The Boys

“Happy Valentine’s Day West 208 & 209 (+Devan) Love you.”
Katie Brems

“Hey Jen, Happy V-day”

“Megan Gilbert, you’re the best. Keep looking good. You my girl.”
Your admirer and best friend

“Happy Valentine’s Day! Stephanie you’re beautiful and I love you mucho!! Keep pulling my hair. HAHA!”
You know...

“I love you twinkle.”
Jon Lyon

“Happy Valentine’s Day!”