

look at yourself

it's all about perspective—

the ability to (humbly and quietly)
harness that self-love—
our immutable
and ever present
life's companion—

to be open
and accepting
of the presence
and actions
and joys and fears
of others.

this is how we can understand.
this is how we can care.