Dear Sarah Orne Jewett,

You are mightly good to me and with all my heart I thank you for your "Tales of New England." My people, the Anthony Stoddards, are burried in the old Granary Cemetery, Boston. I wonder if that is why I love New England so dearly? Ever since you've been printing, or publishing, ~~the~~ I've been reading you, as often with my heart in my throat. That is another reason why I'm so glad to have your book from your own hands.

I hope we may meet , (?), I was awfully sorry I missed seeing you on that happy day at Mrs. Fields'.

I'm sending you a couple of my "Works", which probably you have not seen or may (?) have not even heard of.

You wont mind my being a Papist, will you? If you read "A Troubled Heart" you will see that mine is a case of temperament. 'Tis a ~~pey~~ pity temperaments are not oftener consulted now a days.

Love to you and Mrs. Field from your loyal friend

Charles Warren Stoddard
