The purpose of this case report was to evaluate the effects of an aquatic and land based exercise program on an adult that presented with severe, untreated scoliosis.

The Author acknowledges Michael Fillyaw, PT, MS, for his assistance with case report conceptualization, Brooks Mullen PT, for assistance and supervision with the patient’s care during the clinical practicum, and the patient for participating in this Case Report.

References